
AGILEMAIL PRO OVERVIEW

Promote your company or Web site with e-newsletters, e-promotions, invitations, and press releases with AgileMail Pro, a comprehensive email marketing solution! AgileMail Pro is offered as a Software as a Service (SaaS) solution, so our customers are free to focus on achieving their marketing goals while we focus on maintaining the technology for the best possible user experience. Whether you are sending one or one million emails, you can rest assured that you will be able to easily create, send, and track your email campaign so you can see in real time how your marketing dollars are working for you.

AGILEMAIL PRO MAKES IT EASY

AgileMail Pro makes it easy to reap the immeasurable business rewards from email and eNewsletter campaigns. Does the idea of sending an email campaign and gathering the data from the send seem daunting and time monopolizing? Toss that misconception out the window! You plan and create emails on your time (or let us do it for you) and then schedule it to send whenever you want. No sitting around waiting to send, just schedule it and forget it. You can even enable auto responders on sign-up or embed triggers in an email to provide follow up emails. Then, once the campaign is sent, you can access the robust reports. In real-time you will be able to see in-depth analytics that allow you to make informed decisions about refining your future campaigns.

AREN'T ALL E-NEWSLETTER AND EMAIL SERVICES THE SAME?

Do you ever get email newsletters from companies that look very much like another one you just received from a different company? You won't find stale, pre-loaded templates here. We intend for you to work with your in-house designer, your ad agency, or our staff of professional designers to create a template that fits your brand and needs. When you send an email newsletter, the recipient should remember you and only you, and your message should be unique and professional looking. Unlike many providers, we make it easy for people to remember you because your brand is the only name that will appear on the email you send. We don't brand your emails with our information - WTE is content to let you shine and take all of the credit.
